The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

How the State Legislature starts the New Year—at its fifty-fourth regular session, which is scheduled to convene at Sacramento on January 6—will determine, in many respects, how California finishes it!

What the Legislature does may determine, to large extent, whether millions of Californians end up the year in red ink or black. It may determine, too, whether hundreds of thousands now unemployed, are given an opportunity to rehabilitate themselves in private employment, or whether they are doomed to another year of doles and dependency. It may determine whether thousands of farmers will be in business or bankruptcy at the end of 1941.

Headline issues of the forthcoming legislative session run the gamut of relief, reapportionment, unemployment insurance, labor legislation, prison reform, national defense, regulatory acts applying to agriculture, business and industry important changes in the motor vehicle code and sundry other subjects which, when translated into human terms, have a vital bearing on the life and welfare of nearly every citizen.

But regardless of the question at issue, the most urgent in the Legislature—and among the people back home, whose attitude will influence the legislature—is the need for tolerance and understanding of the other fellow's problems, the need for reasonableness and unselfishness, so that the public good may be made the primary consideration in coping with every problem which may be presented. That, at first glance, may seem like a Utopian desire, improbable of fulfillment, but both California and the Nation—if they consider thoughtfully the disasters which have overtaken other peoples, and the desperate need for a new patriotism here which rises above personal gain or personal advantage—can and must make that desire a reality.

The problem of relief for the destitute, for example, should and must be approached with the thought of providing for those who can't provide for themselves, efficiently and practically, with the least possible drain on those who foot the bill. But more than that, the whole program must be designed to get men off relief—and into prideful private employment—as rapidly as possible.

The economy bloc in the Legislature, by its demands that political influence, radicalism and favoritism be cut to the bone—has saved California taxpayers untold millions during the past two years. At the forthcoming session, it is probable that a bill will be pressed to return relief administration to the counties—and that bill should be considered, not politically, but on its merits. If it will help both the needy and those who provide for them, then it should be enacted—even though it means a number of political jobholders will be unceremoniously cut off the payroll.

On the issue of taxation, the problem has changed tremendously since the 1939 legislative session. State revenues from normal sources are mounting by leaps and bounds, due to defense spending, and it is exceedingly unlikely that there will be any demand for new taxes at the 1941 session, as there was two years ago. On the other hand, rising revenues tend to encourage extravagance—and budgets for state departments should be held in check, so that increased income of the next year or two may be used to wipe out the state deficit, instead of creating new posts for political jobseekers. Federal taxes, due to the vast defense program, are certain to double and treble during the years just ahead, and routine governmental expenditures must be kept down to the minimum if taxpayers are to escape ruinous burdens.

There is a vital need, too, for reasonableness on the labor issue. Recently, the State Supreme Court has upheld the secondary boycott, which if invoked, may play havoc with the farming industry and many other industries. California labor—and also American labor, as a whole—needs to remember that labor excesses led the way to the fall of France and enslavement of the French people, workers and employers alike. The American public is prepared to make every sacrifice to insure the adequate preparedness of this country in a period of emergency, but it will not long tolerate

LONDON HALTS SPREAD OF FLAMES

Thousands Help Fight Fires Started By Bombs In Center Of Capital

By UNITED PRESS

President Roosevelt's address—delivered as Nazi bombers started the greatest conflagration London's ancient "city" had seen in 300 years—today caused Axis spokesmen to charge that the United States had entered "an undeclared war" against Germany, Italy and Japan and brought a forecast that Adolf Hitler may make a personal answer.

In London the speech shared newspaper columns with angry charges that the Nazi Luftwaffe deliberately tried to burn out the heart of London without regard for military objectives.

The huge fires which sent pillars of smoke and flame high into the sky last night had been put out or brought under control today after hours of heart-rending labor by hundreds of thousands of men—firemen, auxiliary workers, police and volunteers.

The conflagration was centered in the mile square section of twisting streets and ancient buildings which forms the ancient "city," the heart of London and site of some of Britain's most historic structures. Many of these today were piles of smouldering, twisted ruins.

The raid lasted only three hours. But the rain of thousands upon thousands of incendiary bombs set fires such as London had not seen since the days of Samuel Pepys. The cable and radio transmission facilities to the United States were disrupted and correspondents telephon-

Pioneer County Lady Succumbs

Services Held On Sunday For Mrs. Maria Mathers, Who Died On Saturday

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from Memory Chapel for Mrs. Maria Vickery (Mayer) Mathers, 88, who died on Saturday at her residence in the Pacific District, near Sacramento.

Mrs. Mathers was a native of England and a pioneer resident of Placerville and her husband, M. Mayer, operated an early day blacksmith shop in which, it is reported, J. M. Studebaker worked during his residence here in pioneer times.

Years following Mr. Mayer's death, his widow wed Joseph Mathers, who operated a shoe repair shop here for many years and who passed away about eight years ago.

Since Mr. Mather's death, Mrs. Mathers had made her home at Sacramento.

She was the stepmother of Mrs. Mayme Goyan, of San Francisco; and Mrs. Elizabeth Mayer Martin, of Sacramento; aunt of Mrs. Elizabeth Hippach, of Huntington Park; Mrs. Ilott Reese, of Placerville; and Dr. R. G. Hosking, of El Dorado.

In addition, she is surveved by one Grandson, Frank M. Goyan, of San Francisco.

GEORGETOWN NATIVE LAID AT REST SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Selma, Fresno County, for George J. Wilton, native of Georgetown, born in 1855. Interment was at the cemetery at Fowler.

Mr. Wilton passed away on Thursday.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilton, who came to California by ox team in 1848, Mr. Wilton lived for more than fifty years in the Georgetown vicinity, engaging in ranching. Later he moved to Fresno county.

He is survived by two sons residing in Georgetown, Roy and Glenn Wilton; another son, Walter Wilton of Shasta; four daughters, Mrs. Ethel Boyd, Fresno, Mrs. Belle Frederickson, Los Angeles, formerly a teacher in the high school in Placerville; Mrs. Hazel Sherwood, Sanger, and Mrs. Daisy Paul, Selma; eleven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Coventry's Shopping Center After Nazi Blitz

Here is a view of the shopping center of historic Coventry, industrial city in the English Midlands, following the recent pulverizing air raid by the Nazi's bombers. Although the surrounding buildings have been blasted into rubble, the clock in the center of the street still functions. German authorities are now making the claims that they have carried out an ever more destructive raid on London in which over eight hundred tons of these destructive, death-dealing high explosives were unloosed.

SKIERS TO SUPPORT CANDIDATE IN CARNIVAL QUEEN CONTEST

Special Committee Urges Representation At Sacramento Event As Mean s Of Earning Recognition For Snow Sports In This County

Intensive efforts are under way this week by the members of the Placerville Ski Club to organize a large delegation to attend the Winter Sports Carnival in Sacramento on Saturday night.

A special committee consisting of Florence Reckers, Erma Lewis and Wallace Ripley has been appointed to urge all members of the club and those interested in winter sports to attend the carnival and support the local club's entry in the Ski Queen contest.

Miss Barbara McKee was selected by the club in its recent ski queen contest to represent this area and she will compete with a dozen or more other area selections during the evening of the carnival for the title of Carnival Queen. In addition to the queen contest, the evening's program will include high class entertainment supplied by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and an hour of dancing.

Each year the queen contest attracts a large number of people who support their contestants and themselves compete for an attendance prize. This prize consists of twenty-five dollars to the individual club which scores the largest number of man miles traveled to the carnival. The Placerville Ski Club is making a special effort this year to win this prize. All persons who appear with the local group in either ski clothes or wearing a Placerville Ski Club emblem will be counted in the contest.

The special committee has announced that if there is sufficient demand to fill a bus, arrangements will be made to charter one at special rates for the trip. Admission to the carnival will be thirty cents. Tickets may be obtained from Fox Brothers, Sportsman's Shop, Murray's, Erma Lewis or at the Chamber of Commerce.

The local committee announces that it has planned several novel features for its part in the evening's program. Among these will be the impersonation of Snowshoe Thompson by William Cumming attired in early day costume complete with a pair of Thompson's skiis that have been loaned for the purpose by Leon Fairchild, and the attendance by Paul Smith's St. Bernard dog, King, a reguar member of the Placerville Club during the past three years.

President Pleased At Reaction; Sen. Wheeler Speaks Tonight

WASHINGTON, (UP) — President Roosevelt is "tremendously pleased" by the response to his proclamation of "an emergency as serious as war itself" and his pledge of all-out material aid for Britain, the White House said today.

Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early said the chief executive was especially pleased because some Republican as well as Democratic leaders agreed with him. He made no comment on the angry reaction to the President's speech by spokesmen for the Axis powers.

Comment published in the nation's newspapers and heard over the radio was generally favorabe to the Pdesident.

Sen. Wheeler Speaks

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Sen Burton K. Wheeler, O., Mont., an isolationist leader, will reply to President Roosevelt's speech in a radio address over the NBC Blue Network at 7:30 p. m., PST., tonight.

By UNITED PRESS

President Roosevelt's fireside chat drew angry comment from the Axis powers and praise from Latin America today.

Nazi leaders in Berlin withhold official comment awaiting word from "highest quarters" — presumably Adolf Hitler. Foreign Minister Joaquim Von Ribbentrop took charge of the study of the speech. German newspapers ignored it.

At Rome, Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, said the speech made President Roosevelt the leader of "an undeclared war" against the Axis nations.

Japanese officials were slow to react.

A British spokesman in London said Mr. Roosevelt's speech was the most logical indictment of Nazism ever uttered.

A high Canadian official at Ottawa said Mr. Roosevelt's speech might . "quite conceivably be the turning point in the world struggle against Hitlerism."

STORMS POSTPONE DATE FOR INDUCTION OF NATIONAL GUARD

Lack of camp facilities due to west coast storms has forced a postponement of the induction of California national guard units from January 27 to some time in February, Major General Ernest Peek, commandant of the ninth corps area, announced in San Francisco during the weekend.

The postponement affects the 40th division and the 115th observation squadron. A number of El Dorado County guardsmen are in the 40th division, most of them members of the 184th infantry.

Steady rains have delayed construction of buildings at Camp San Luis Obispo, Peek said.

LIONS TO MEET AT IVY HOUSE

Placerville Lions will hold their regular Tuesday luncheon this week at the Ivy House.

Reason:

Lion Lloyd Raffetto has been preparing to celebrate the New year by having a tile floor installed in the kitchen at Hotel Raffles. The work has been delayed and will not be complete in time for the lion luncheon.

Lion President A. H. Murray conferred with Lion Raffetto Monday morning, and then with Lion Past President Louis Armes, and issued an edict that the club meeting is hereby changed to the Ivy House.

Bert Parsons Ski Leader

Named President For Club Following Resignatton Of Reuel V. Whigam

Bert Parsons, of the headquarters staff of Eldorado National Forest, is the new president of Placerville Ski Club. He was selected at the recent regular meeting of the club and succeeds Reuel V. Whigam.

Mr. Whigam tendered his resignation several weeks ago as president of the club when it became apparent to him that he would be away from home on business to such an extent during the winter that he would be unable to devote to the work the attention necessary to a successful administration.

Parsons will lead the club through the winter season and the regular election of officers will follow in the Spring.

Assisting Parsons in the club management are Swift Berry, vice-president; Howard Lewis, Secretary; Don Goodrich, treasurer; A. N. Weber, representative to the state ski association, and Adolph Martin, chief of hill.

Harry Sammis Married Recently At Reno

Mr. and Mrs. Sammis are establishing their home at Oakland, following their marriage on Saturday, December 21, at Reno.

Mr. Sammis is a Placerville boy, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Gray, and a graduate of the county high school where he excelled in basketball.

His bride was Miss Dolly Batchelder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Batchelder, of Oakland, and a graduate of Oakland schools.

The couple halted in Placerville enroute home to Oakland for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gray. Mr. Sammis is employed with the Bates Paper Bag Company, at Oakland.

Mrs. Florence Pratt was a caller Monday morning from Sweetwater, where she is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Starbuck.

WM. C. MORGAN SUMMONED

Placerville Pharmacist Succumbs At Home Late Saturday Afternoon

William C. Morgan, for thirteen years a Placerville pharmacist and the proprietor of Morgan's Pharmacy, passed away Saturday afternoon at his residence on Union Street following several years of failing health.

The arrangements for the funeral services are being concluded with the assistance of Memory Chapel. Tentative plans provide for services to be held on Tuesday from the residence.

Mr. Morgan had not been well for about four years past although his illness did not enter a serious stage until about two years ago. Despite failing health, he had been able to be up and about most of the time and, on occasion, to spend some time at the drug store where both he and his wife were on duty as pharmacists.

Saturday afternoon about three o'clock Mr. Morgan telephoned from the home to Mrs. Morgan at the store, stating that he had completed some book work at which he had been engaged, and thought he would lay down for a rest. Upon returning home about five o'clock, Mrs. Morgan found that he had passed away.

A notice upon the door of the pharmacy informs patrons the drug store will be open on January 2.

William C. Morgan was a native of Omemee, Ontario, Canada, born more than seventy years ago. Fifty years ago he enrolled at the California College of Pharmacy at San Francisco and following preparatory work there was graduated in the College of Pharmacy at Northwestern University, Chicago.

Subsequently, he took post graduate work at the University of Michigan in metallurgy and in chemistry and in the latter subject was honored by the University of Michigan with a doctor's degree.

At Sacramento on April 19, 1911, he was married to Margarita R. Murray, youngest daughter of the late John and Wilhelmina Murray, and the couple settled at Fresno, coming to Placerville thirteen years ago to purchase the Rexall Drug Store, from the late William Fairchild.

Mr. Morgan is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Poast, of Peteboro, Ontario, Canada; and three brothers, Thomas E. Morgan, of Santa Clara; Edward S. Morgan, of Edmonton, Aleberta, Canada; and David Morgan, of Wood Mountain, Saskatchewan, Canada.

He was a member of the Masonic order at Leadville, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Morgan and daughter arrived during the weekend from their home at Santa Clara.

While Old Sol poked his head through the clouds as though trying to determine about noon Monday whether it is safe for him to come out, the Weather Bureau at San Francisco forecast showers for El Dorado County and vicinity Monday night and Tuesday.

Rainfal measurement for the season up to eight o'clock Monday morning was an even fifteen inches, more than one inch in excess of normal and from the higher reaches the El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce received reports of continuing snowfall.

In the face of a report credited to the state Division of Highways at Sacramento Saturday that the Echo Summit "is still closed at Twin Bridges and probably will remain closed for the Winter," a delegation of Lake Valley residents was reported working with shovels to open the road on the east side of the Echo summit.

While visitors at Twin Bridges Sunday found a foot of snow in the Lover's Leap Ski Area, the chamber of commerce report Monday morning indicated that a foot of snow had falen at that point Sunday night.

Even then, at nine o'clock Monday morning, snow was reported falling at the thirty-four mile stone. Snow depths as reported by the chamber give 24 inches at Twin Bridges; ten inches at Strawberry; forty inches at Camp Sacramento; 55 inches at Echo Lake and 60 inches on the summit.

Coast's Storm Series Abates

Showers Monday And Tuesday, Forecast; Breakers Rake Beaches

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP) — Storms that had raked the Pacific Coast for two weeks dwindled today, leaving in their wake swollen rivers and property damage but no serious flood threat.

Small craft storm warnings were still up from San Francisco to the Canadian border, but no further gales were expected. The weather forecast for California was cloudy with showers Monday and Tuesday, with rains and fog along the Oregon and Washington coast and snows inland and over the mountains.

Breakers smashed the beach at Moss Landing in Monterey Bay, flooding a score of homes. A seven-foot tide, combined with heavy run-off waters, fooded the town of Alviso on the southern end of San Francisco Bay.

The surf pounded the southern California coast heavily, but was quieting. Four homes had been wrecked along Redondo Beach, emergency bulkheads smashed and a waterfront sidewalk undermined, and Redondo's total storm damage was estimated at more than $200,000.

Placerville Couple Wed Recently At Reno

Among those to whom license to wed was issued during the Christmas week at Reno were Wellington Rogers, 23, and Dorothy Smith, 16, both of Placerville. Mr. Rogers is employed at the Beach Box Factory and the couple will make their home here.

Around The House

WITH ANN COMFORT

If you have young children at home, try setting an alarm clock at the time when it is time for their playmates to go home. Their mothers will be pleased to see the youngsters come home promptly.

After you have written your thank you notes, do you make a list of gifts and Christmas cards received with names of donors? It is surprising how much time and thought this list wil save you next year. But be sure to put it where it can be found. I put mine in the big family Bible.

As soon as the Christmas tree comes down and the decorations are put away, the January job will be going through the linen closet to mend or discard old pieces and replace some from the White Sales. In almost every linen closet thare is a pile of fancy guest towels, gifts of some cousin Penelope or Aunt Luella that we have been cherishing as a matter of sentiment. Why not use them or give them to the girls of your acquaintance who have hope chests to fill?

Six sheets and six pair of pillow cases are the minimum requirement for each bed but if you can afford it, twice that many will give you that peculiar feeling of well-being that a well stocked linen closet gives. "Try to have enough hand, face and bath towels to use once only." household authorities say. But for most of us, a daily change is enough.

Although runners and doilies are replacing luncheon and table cloths, lace and damask cloths still hold their own. A collection of fine table linen is as much a treasure for the housewife as a casket of jewels and when chosen wisely and laundered with care, it is a good investment.

So watch for the January White Sales.

To top a heavy dinner and to give a touch of color, try for your next dessert:

Cranberry Sherbert

Three cups cranberries, one cup boiling water, two egg whites, one and one-half cups California-grown beet sugar, one-half cup orange juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt.

Cook cranberries and water for ten minutes. Add beet sugar, orange juice and salt. Run through a sieve and cool. Turn into tray of refrigerator and partially freeze. Remove add egg whites and beat for one minute. Return to tray and finish freezing. This can be served with meat course as well as a dessert. Serve in sherbet glasses or in orange shells.

To while away rainy afternoons, when the children are restless try these candy recipes:

Chocolate Cocoanut Divinity

Two cups California grown beet sugar, one-half cup light corn syrup, three squares unsweetened chocolate, one can of moist sweetened coconut, two-thirds cup water, two egg whites stiffly beaten, one teaspoon vanilla, one-eighth teaspoon salt.

Bring one-half cup of beet sugar and one-third cup water to a boil and boil until it forms a hard ball in cold water (240 degrees). While this mixture is boiling, bring the remaining sugar and water and syrup to a boil and boil until a few drops form a hard ball in cold water (252 degrees). Remove first syrup, cool slightly and pour slowly over egg whites, beating constantly until mixture loses its gloss. Now add second syrup beating as before. When nearly cool, fold in chocolate which has been melted and cooled then add vanilla, coconut and salt and beat until candy holds its shape. Turn into greased pan. When cool cut in squares. You can substitute nuts for cocoanut.

Fudge

One-half cup ground sweet chocolate, three-quarters cup milk, one teaspoon vanilla, two cups California grown beet sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-eighth teaspoon salt.

Combine chocolate, sugar and milk. Stir over low flame until mixture boils. Keep on cooling but do not stir much until a few drops form a soft ball in cold water. Remove from fire. Add butter and let it cool. Add vanilla, beat until it thickens, pour into puttered pan. When cool cut in squares. A one-half cup of chopped nuts may be added.

Resolutions are in order. Last year my family made them for one another. This year they are taking the matter more seriously.

The Old Captain resolves:— To study national defense problems to the best of my ability.

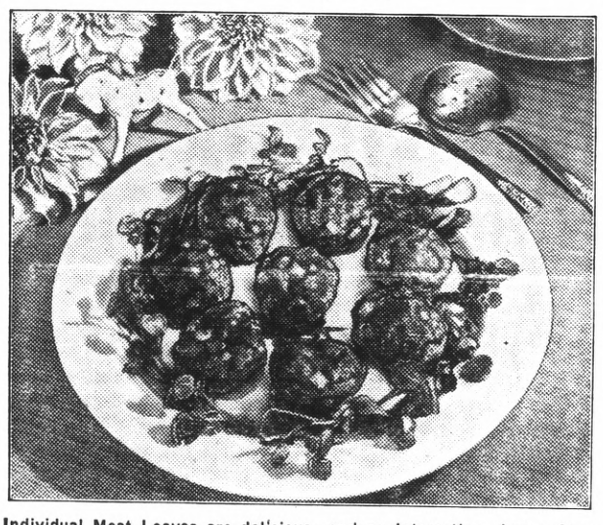

To educate young people to the fact that the American way of life in comparison to the way of life of other nations has proven to be the best and to do their part to preserve and protect the principles for which our democracy stands.

Aunt Sally resolves: To hold firmly in this world of shifting values to the ideals of the home. (1) As housewife, to keep abreast of new discoveries in sanitation and nutrition. (2) As homemaker, to make my home comfortable and as beautiful as my means allow; to make it a place where the family will want to stay and where friends want to come.

The Sophomore resolves: To try to forget my selfish interests. To study how in my small way I can minimize the sorrow and suffering that are in the world today.

FLAVOR, rich full flavor, is the main idea in a BAKED MEAT LOAF

says Dorothy Greig

Individual Meat Loaves are delicious—and an interesting change from a single large loaf.

THE difference between an Oh Boy! dish and a Dear Me! one, simmers down to a matter of flavor.

Full flavor . . . "mmn, what a fine cook she is." Tasteless flatness . . . "how does her husband stand her dreary meals, poor man!"

Certainly, deep relishing flavor marks the two baked meat loaves below as belonging to the Oh Boy! family.

In one, flavor is achieved by a combination of several seasonings in the meat loaf, plus a lively sauce. In the other, it is stepped up by simply adding a can of condensed soup to the meat. This is a trick every woman should remember for condensed soup is a quick and easy stepper-up of flavor in many a meat and casserole dish.

Veal Loaf with Tomato Relish Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1½ pounds ground veal
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs

Melt butter, add flour and cook until frothy. Combine with chopped onion, chopped parsley, veal, seasonings and eggs and mix well. Shape into a loaf, put into a buttered loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven (350°) for one hour and fifteen minutes. Serves 6-8.

Tomato-Relish Sauce:

1 can condensed tomato soup
3 tablespoons relish (India or sweet pickle)
1 tablespoon drippings from meat loaf

Combine all ingredients and heat 5-6 minutes to blend the flavors.

This next one is made as individual loaves, which is an interesting change from the more usual large single loaf. There is sufficient seasoning in the condensed soup to flavor the meat. Not even salt and pepper need be added.

Individual Beef and Vegetable Loaves

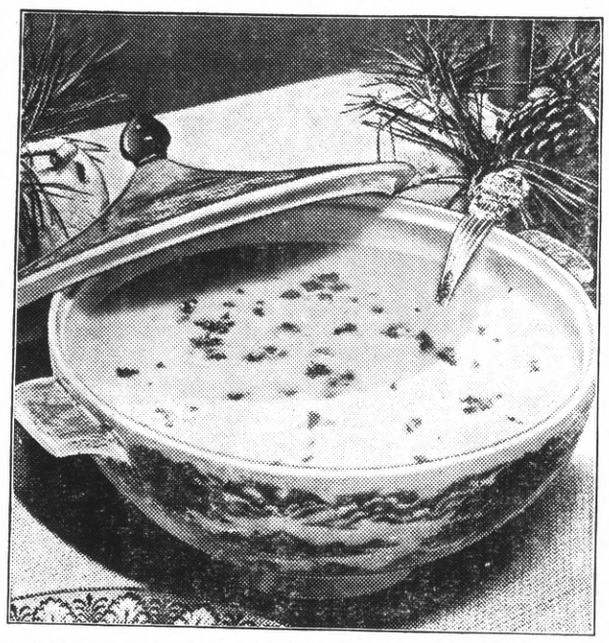

1 pound ground beef
1 can condensed vegetable soup

Combine the ground beef and soup and mix well. Pack into large size muffin pans and bake in a moderate oven (350°) for 45 minutes to one hour. Serves 6-8.

A grand finale to the noble bird is

Turkey-Mushroom Soup

by Dorothy Greig

IT may be heresy even to hint at such a thing . . . but there are some irrepressible souls who think the best part of the holiday turkey is its final wind-up as turkey soup. Such honest turkey flavor, they claim, almost more than the turkey meat itself had, as though the very essence of flavor had been saved for this, its glorious finish.

And I agree, for my own turkey soup is something of which I'm really proud. You see, I add condensed cream of mushroom soup—which gives it an extra fillup of delicate flavor, and a smoothness of texture that is a delight to the palate. Here's how it goes:

Bones of one roast turkey
2 quarts cold water
1 carrot, sliced
1 stalk celery
2 slices onion, medium size

Put all ingredents into a stewing kettle, bring to a boil and simmer, covered, for 2 hours. Strain. Makes 1½ quarts stock.

1½ quarts turkey stock
4 tablespoons rice, uncooked
2 cans condensed cream of mushroom soup

Cook the rice in the turkey stock until soft when pressed between the fingers. Empty the cream of mushroom soup into a saucepan, stir well and add the turkey stock with cooked rice.

For garnish—add 4 tablespoons of chopped tomato (firm part) and 1 teaspoon chopped parsley. Makes 2¼ quarts.

Note:

No salt and pepper were used in this recipe because the seasoning in the cream of mushroom soup seemed adequate. However, you may prefer to add about ¼ teaspoon of salt and pinch of pepper.

LYNX, that fur flatterer of feminine pulchritude, is used to great advantage in the ensemble sketched above.

The coat is made of soft green wool with a luxurious lynx collar and cuffs. The entire bodice and sleeve top is quilted and embellished with tiny self buttons as detail. The clever cut features seaming that comes from under the bust and extends to the hem accentuating that desired slim torso look.

And the hat is of draped matching green with a big pom-pom of lynx at the front. This is indeed an outfit that need only be seen to be admired.

labor tieups which jeopardize the Nation's welfare; labor should take account of that—before it is too late. Labor would be saving itself future headaches if it appeared before the forthcoming Legislature, prepared to be reasonable—even if that reasonableness calls for the repeal of measures which infringe on the rights of others, such as the secondary boycott.

Southern California and northern California are prepared to do battle over the issue of legislative reapportionment; it is to be hoped that they will be reasonable. There will be demands from both sides for an amendment of the Unemployment Insurance Act; again, both sides have need to be reasonable.

California, during 1941, needs unity more than at any other time in many years. It needs to "live and let live;" it needs to demonstrate a new, unselfish Americanism. Let's hope that the 1941 Legislature, forgetting partisan and factional politics, sets the pace—and legislates for the public good and the public welfare!

Italian Ships Roar—and Run

Somewhere in the Mediterranean, south of Sardinia, an Italian battleship fires her broadside of heavy guns during a recent battle with the British near the island. The Italian vessels roared—like this—and ran, seeking safety in port. Each side has put out conflicting claims of damage.

BUENOS AIRES BANS FILM AS INJURIOUS TO FRIENDLY NATION

BUENOS AIRES — (UP) — The Buenos Aires Municipal Motion Picture Advisory Commission today prohibited the exhibition of the film "Confession of a Nazi Spy" on the ground that it was njurious to a nation with which Argentina maintains friendly diplomatic relations.

The opening of the film had been set for tomorrow. The commission said that its ruling also was made to avoid possible disturbances at the theatre.

The local branch of Warner Brothers, producer of the film, had appeared a previous ruling barring its exhibition, and had changed its title to "Sonfessions of a Secret Spy," also altering the film's Spanish dialogue text. The commission, however, ruled that the picture remained essentially the same.

The Charles Chaplin film, "The Great Dictator," was still scheduled to be shown simultaneously at three Buenos Aires theaters on Jan. 2.

ed their stories to New York.

The raid came to a sudden end, possibly because the Royal Air Force sent night raiders into the air to clear the regions above the blazing inferno.

Berlin had its own spectacular accompaniment to the Roosevelt address.

One was what was described as an "accidental" series of explosions at the great Anhalter station in the heart of Berlin. The explosions set a great fire that burned for many hours. Residents of the area went to aid raid shelters, believing the station had been bombed. The Nazi account, however, attributed the fire to "accidental" explosion of gasoline tins.

The other event also was described "accidental." It was a wreck at Brandenburg between a troop train and a freight train in which five soldiers were said to have been killed and seven injured.

In Italy the Royal Air Force smashed again at Naples with an attack in which seven persons were reported killed. The British planes also dropped leaflets, presumably containing the text of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's appeal to Italy to overthrow Mussolini and make peace with Britain.

In Albania Greek troops pounded toward Lin, 12 miles north of Pogradec and were said to be only a half mile outside the city which is an important base in northern Albania. On the coastal front pressure continued toward Valona, but it was admitted that the Fascists are now fighting harder.

The situation in Libya apparently was unchanged.

ROOSEVELT APPROVES $127,000 TO ADD 2,000 ACRES TO FORT ORD RESERVATION; POST WILL BE MAJOR BASE ON COAST

WASHINGTON, (UP) — President Roosevelt has made available $127,000 to the war department for purchase of about 2,000 acres of land in Monterey county, California from the T. A. Work interests for expansion of Fort Ord, it was learned today.

Negotiations for the property had been under way for many weeks but there were no specific funds allocated by congress for the purchase.

As a result the President was asked by the army authorities to approve money for the purchase from funds he might have from other sources for defense purposes. The President complied.

The war department officials said that the deal is being concluded and options have been procured on the property.

Tney described the purchase as in line with the army's long range program for enlarging Fort Ord into one of the major west coast military centers.

At Ford Ord last week it was announced that Col. R. D. Valliant, chief of the real estate division of the quartermaster general's office, signed a contract to purchase the 1,974 acres from T. A. Work for $242,000. The new addition would bring the Ford Ord acreage to 23,000.

If the ranchers in the Missouri Flat district who own sheep are losing lambs, they may look out for a dog. While returning from Placerville recently the writer passed a tan and white short-haired dog on the Webber Creek grade below the Missouri Flat school, with a lamb in its mouth, which appeared as though it had just been killed. The dog looked as though he was part police dog. To the ranchers who own sheep and goats, dogs have become a menace—if not worse than coyotes, and other animals, as the wild animals can be trapped and killed and dogs cannot.

Mrs. Louisa J. Fleming and F. J. Edwards spent Christmas Day in Sacramento with relatives.

OROVILLE. (UP) — The emotional test of signing his application for a marriage license was too much for Joseph Eric Whitaker, 32-year-old high school teacher. CALIFORNIA CLING PEACH PACK SHOWS SLIGHT DECLINE FROM 1939 FIGURE; GAIN NOTED IN AMOUNT USED FOR COCKTAILS

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—The canning peach advisory board today reported the 1940 California cling peach pack at 14,783,683 cases, a decline of less than one million cases from the 1939 pack of 15,563,442. The pack was estimated in the basis of 2½ size cans.

The board estimated delivered No. 1 tonnage for which growers were paid at 396,761 tons as against 301,414 last year.

As usual the largest percentage of the cling peach crop went into regular cling peach canning, including halves, quarters, whole and sliced. This pack totaled 9,608,126 cases as against 10,579,366 last year.

Fruit for cocktail took the second largest share, 4,262,305 cases. This was an increase over the 3,580,419 cocktail cases processed in 1939.

Fruits for salad took 497,675 cases as against 1,207,976 the preceding year and sliced peaches 156,665 as against 195,681.

The commercial pack was 14,524,771 cases. In addition 257,249 cases were packed for the federal surplus marketing administration and 1,663 for the state department of institutions, bringing the total pack to 14,783,683 cases.

The board said its figures for the fruit cocktail pack for 1940 represented only that part processed direct from fresh peaches from remanufacture. The canning league of California will show both direct and remanufactured cocktail peach pack in its summary of the season to be issued after Jan. 1.

The canning peach advisory board said that of the paid-for tonnage of 296,761 tons in 1940, 217,048.47 tons went into regular commercial pack; 4,194.67 into salad; 48,603.51 into cocktail; 3,352.23 into spiced peaches and 107.06 into miscellaneous.

In addition the growers delivered and received payment for fruit sent to the surplus marketing administration of institution, employees, experimental purposes, jam stock, dry yards and other agencies. The commercial pack totaled 273,305.96 tons; that delivered the marketing administration and other agencies 23,455.22 to produce the 296,761.20 ton total.

The board said a later report would show the entire tonnage for the year, including off-grade fruit for which growers were not paid.
